Carolyn has been with Corporate Traveller as a travel manager and team leader for seven years. She has worked in the travel industry for 18 years.

Carolyn and her team have a deep understanding of the mining and resource industry's travel needs through their current and previous exposures to this industry.

Their strengths include attention to detail and providing a superior customer service. All our travel managers have excellent back office processing and invoicing skills, and take full control of all their accounts to meet the individual needs of each and every client.
